Text: Jeremiah 27:1-22

Theme: The Lord of Hosts has spoken, listen carefully.

Introduction: Instead of listening to God through His word, we are eager to hear from those who agree with our viewpoints. Jeremiah addresses one viewpoint—submitting to authority—where God has spoken clearly, yet we eagerly listen until we find someone who agrees with us. The NT clearly teaches that every one of us is to submit to our governing authorities (Romans 13:1-7 and 1 Peter 2:13-17), yet we disregard God’s word.

- I) God has called all people to humbly _____ their rulers (1-22).
  - A. The nations were commanded to put on the _____ and serve Babylon (2-3).
  - B. The _____ of all things is the One who has put all rulers on the throne (4-7).
    - 1. As Creator, He has every right to install whomever He chooses. When we reject our earthly rulers, we are rejecting God’s rule over us (cf. Rom. 13:1-2).
  - C. Even though false prophets continue to claim to speak for God, God has _____ spoken (8-22).
    - 1. God had already spoken through Jeremiah the prophet (12), yet the people did not want to hear him. Instead, they listened to the prophets who had ulterior motives (10).
    - 2. Stop giving your ear to these false prophets who claim to be speaking for God (16-17). Instead, take notice when their words are not fulfilled (18-22).
